Lake Villa Library Offers Challenge for National Library Week

Lake Villa District Library will observe National Library Week, April 12-18, 2015, by offering library users a challenge---a challenge to think differently about the library.

LVDL aspires to be more than the backdrop of the daily commute; the place people drive to---not passed by. And with its vast and varied collection, the library is the book store; the video store and the place to go for video games. It is the place to go to learn and experience something new. The library offers fun, interesting and relevant programs for people of all ages--- STEM, STEAM and engaging current event discussions.

“We understand people expect more from their library today and we are dedicated to exceeding that expectation” said LVDL Director Andy Lentine.

The vibe of the library has improved. Patrons can buy a cup of coffee to enjoy while working or studying. Increased bandwidth offers people a better online experience when they are in the building and there are more options for small groups to meet and work.

Library staff hopes area residents will accept the NLW Challenge and will experience the busy, vibrant and friendly place that is LDVL.

Lake Villa District Library enriches life in our community by connecting people with resources, services and each other. The library is located at 1001 E. Grand Avenue in Lake Villa. National Library Week, a national observance sponsored by the American Library Association (ALA) to promote library use and support.
